

Introduction

Overview

Purpose	This introduction contains general information and tips for using your Lucent Technologies CD-ROM.
Features	This offer is designed for all users who want the ease of accessing documentation electronically. Features include: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Full-text search capability within and among documents• Hypertext links allowing instant access to different parts of the offer• Convenient handling (one CD-ROM replaces thousands of printed pages)
Prerequisites	Users should know how to use their operating system and file-access features such as commands, windows, toolbars, and pulldown menus.
Contents	This CD contains documents that support Lucent Call Center Release 8 users, including: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Administration & Operation documents• General Reference documents• Installation & Maintenance documents• User Information documents• Translated Documents

Support

For technical support, call 1 800 288-5327 in the United States, or call 1 303 488-5350 from any other country.

Conventions

Secondary menu items are indicated with a right-angle mark (for example, “Choose Help > Acrobat/Reader Guide”).

Organization

Parts of this offer

- The main menu provides access to all parts of this offer
(use MAIN MENU bookmark)
- The master index allows you to locate an item in any document
(use MASTER INDEX bookmark)
- The glossary includes abbreviations and acronyms
(use GLOSSARY bookmark)
- The How to search and Problems buttons are shortcuts to other parts of this Introduction file
(use How to search or Problems button on the main menu)

Navigation

Among documents

- Double-click the CD icon or open mainmenu.pdf in the Acrobat viewer, then:
 - Select a document to view or
 - Use the Index button (if present) to locate an item in a document.
 - Choose Edit > Search > Query to locate words in any document.
 - From any document displayed in the Acrobat window, use the MAIN MENU bookmark to return to the main menu, then select another document to view
-

Within a document

- Use bookmarks to access chapters and major headings or
 - Click the Table of Contents bookmark to access any section listed in the document's table of contents or
 - Use the Index bookmark to locate an item in that document or
 - Use any of the methods built into the Acrobat viewer. Choose Help > Acrobat/Reader Guide, then click "Viewing PDF documents" for details on finding words and navigating pages.
-

By hypertext links

- In the main menu, click either the button or the adjacent text to access another part of the offer.
- In a document, position the cursor over blue underlined text so that the cursor image changes to a pointing finger, then click the primary mouse button.

Tips

Acrobat help

In the Adobe Acrobat viewer window, choose Help > Acrobat/Reader Guide for detailed information including:

- Setting preferences and display options
 - Printing documents or portions of documents
-

Acrobat Search feature

The Adobe Acrobat Search feature provides enhanced search options including wildcards, Boolean expressions, and the ability to search across the entire library.

To use the Search feature:

- 1 Double-click the offer icon or open mainmenu.pdf in the Acrobat viewer.
- 2 Choose Edit > Search > Query or click on the search button.
- 3 In the Adobe Acrobat Search window, enter the text to search for, then press Enter or click Search
- 4 A list of documents that contains that item appears. Double-click the document you wish to view.
- 5 To find the next or previous occurrence of the item, click the Next or Previous buttons on the toolbar, or use one of the Edit > Search menu options.
- 6 To refine the search (search only the documents that are listed in the Search Results window):
 - In the Adobe Acrobat Search window, type a new term to search for.
 - Hold down the Control key and click Refine (formerly the Search button).

Help for Search

For details on using the Search feature, in the Adobe Acrobat viewer window choose Help > Acrobat/Reader Guide and click on Searching Catalog Indexes

See Troubleshooting for tips on solving index or document search problems.

Components

Page numbers

Each page of an online document is numbered on the screen as it is in the printed version. When you print an online document, however, the page numbers in the Print dialog box reflect the pages in the PDF file, which may not correspond to the page numbers shown in the document header on your screen.

Example. The Print dialog box may show a page range of 1 to 250, but the pages you want to print are numbered 2-32 to 2-35 in the document. To print these four pages, use the page numbers listed at the bottom of your Acrobat viewer window (for example, print pages 55 to 59 as shown in the viewer window).

Per-document Information

Each document contains its own legal information on the back of its title page. For unique information including trademarks, style conventions, and intended audience, see the About This Document bookmark in individual documents.

Troubleshooting

Acrobat Search does not list results

If the Search button is grayed out in the Adobe Acrobat Search window, or if the search fails to list any documents, you may need to add the Search index for this library (a .pdx file in the same directory as the mainmenu.pdf file).

To add the correct index:

- 1 In the Acrobat viewer window, choose Tools > Search > Indexes
- 2 In the Index Selection window, click Add to add the .pdx file for your offer.

For details on adding or removing indexes, see Help for Search.

No Search over web

The Search feature does not work for Acrobat documents opened using a web browser. Instead choose Edit > Find, or click on the find button  , to find items in a PDF document opened through a web browser.

Search help menu bug

When you choose Help > Plug-In Help > Using Acrobat Search, Acrobat Reader returns "Error opening this document. This path does not exist". For details on using the Search feature, choose Help > Acrobat/Reader Guide and click on Searching Catalog Indexes.

Document not found

Some systems may not allow you to view documents displayed in the Search Results window (see Step 4 under Acrobat Search feature).

To work around this problem:

- 1 Copy the document files from the CD to your system disk. Copy the entire directory tree that starts with "lucntdoc", including all of its subdirectories, exactly as it appears so that the hypertext links will work properly.
 - 2 Launch the Acrobat viewer again, but this time open the mainmenu.pdf file from your system disk. Try the search again.
 - 3 If the search still fails, make a note of the listed documents. You can search for the desired item in each document individually using the Acrobat viewer Find feature (choose the Edit > Find option).
-

Index not available

The Acrobat viewer displays an "index not available" message if it cannot locate a Search-feature index, or if the Acrobat viewer cannot read the current indexes.

To correct this problem, either:

- In the Acrobat viewer window, choose Edit > Search > Indexes, then remove the index that is no longer available or
- Copy the documents from the CD to your system disk (see the Document not found section).

Text appears as horizontal lines

Sometimes text on the screen appears as horizontal lines instead of words. To correct this problem:

- 1 In the Acrobat viewer window, choose File > Preferences > General
- 2 In the General Preferences window, clear the checkbox labeled “Use Greek Text below...”
- 3 Click OK

Legal

Copyright

The Lucent Technologies-provided data and software on this media including all portions thereof, except where expressly stated otherwise, are protected by copyright and other laws respecting proprietary rights. Unauthorized reproduction, transfer, and/or use may be a criminal, as well as civil, offense under applicable law.

Trademarks

- Adobe[®] and Acrobat[®] are registered trademarks of Adobe Systems Inc.
- CentreVu[®] is a registered trademark of Lucent Technologies
- DEFINITY[®] is a registered trademark of Lucent Technologies
- Windows[®] is a registered trademark of Microsoft Corporation

License agreement

Lucent Technologies Inc., or any of its affiliates or subsidiaries, hereby grants to you a non-exclusive license under which you may:

- use this CD on a single-user personal computer, on a server that is to be used by multiple users within your Company on a local area network, or on your Company's intranet;
- make a backup copy of this CD as long as the restrictions applicable under this license are enforced in connection with the backup copy; and
- transfer possession of this CD concurrent with the transfer of the associated software and documentation provided that the recipient expressly agrees to the terms of this license.

Under this license you may not:

- use, copy, modify or transfer copies of this CD, except as provided in this license;
- alter, modify, or adapt this CD software, including but not limited to translating, decompiling, disassembling, reverse engineering, or creating derivative works;
- make the contents of this CD accessible to the general public (e.g., over the Internet);
- reverse assemble or reverse compile this CD software; or
- sublicense, rent, lease, sell, or assign this CD for monetary consideration, except as permitted under this license.

Warranty

THE CD SOFTWARE AND DOCUMENTATION ARE NOT WARRANTED IN ANY WAY AND ARE PROVIDED "AS IS." LUCENT TECHNOLOGIES INC. AND ITS AFFILIATES AND SUBSIDIARIES EXPRESSLY DISCLAIM ANY WARRANTY OF MERCHANTABILITY AND OF FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE.

Limitation of Remedies

Lucent Technologies' and its affiliates' and subsidiaries' entire liability under this license is as follows:

Lucent Technologies will replace defective media with a functionally equivalent CD or you may terminate your license and destroy all copies of this CD. LUCENT TECHNOLOGIES WILL NOT BE LIABLE FOR ANY LOST PROFITS OR LOST SAVINGS, OR ANY INCIDENTAL DAMAGES OR OTHER ECONOMIC CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES, EVEN IF LUCENT TECHNOLOGIES OR ITS AUTHORIZED SUPPLIER HAS BEEN ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES. LUCENT TECHNOLOGIES WILL NOT BE LIABLE FOR ANY DAMAGES CLAIMED BY YOU BASED ON ANY THIRD PARTY CLAIM.

General

You may terminate your license at any time. Lucent Technologies Inc. or its affiliate or subsidiary may terminate your license if you fail to comply with terms and conditions of this license. In either event, you must destroy all your copies of this CD. Neither party may bring action, regardless of form, more than two years after the cause of action arose.

If you acquired this CD in the United States, this license is governed by the laws of the State of New Jersey. Otherwise, this license is governed by the laws of the country in which you acquired the CD.